AGL Resources' Golden Triangle Storage project accepts FERC certificate

BEAUMONT, Texas, Jan. 30, 2008 – Golden Triangle Storage, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of AGL Resources [NYSE ATG], today accepted the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) order granting it a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity to construct and operate its proposed underground natural gas storage project. FERC also has approved market-based rates for the project to be located in the Spindletop salt dome on the southern edge of Beaumont in Jefferson County, Texas.

The company plans to initially offer up to 12 billion cubic feet (Bcf) of working gas storage capacity in two caverns and, depending on market demand, could gradually enlarge the two caverns' capacity up to 16 Bcf of working gas in the future. Approximately one-third of the initial capacity of the first cavern is under contract for firm storage services. Golden Triangle Storage also plans to build a nearly nine-mile natural gas pipeline heading northeast from the storage site into Orange County to connect the storage facility with three interstate and three intrastate pipelines.

Initial commercial operations are expected to begin in late 2010 to early 2011, with the second cavern coming online in 2013. The company is in the process of securing additional permits in order to commence construction in March or April 2008. It already has placed orders for long-lead time equipment and is reviewing bids from contractors for initial phase construction services.

Project details can be found on the company's Web site at www.goldentrianglstorage-texas.com. A copy of the certificate is available on the FERC Web site at www.ferc.gov, docket number CP07-414.
